Tip for Farmers

Here's a top for farmers: Harvest more legume and grass seed this year. It will pay.

This is especially true of alsike, red clover and alsike clover seed, for sweet clover, ladino clover and crimson clover seed are also needed, among the legumes, as are orchard grass, timothy, tall oat grass, and many other hay and cover crop seeds.

Next year's legume-forage plantings will depend to a great extent upon how much seed is harvested this summer. Government reports show that the need for meeting goals on these seed crops is urgent, prices are high and there is a ready market. Additional seed is especially important to fulfill meat and feed-production goals.

Alsike, red clover and alsike clover are important hay crops, as is timothy mixed with these legumes. Legumes are also important in maintaining soil productivity when plowed under as manure when turned under and as per manured cover.

Emphasis is being placed on the use of farming practices that increase seed yields. Although the acreage of red clover seed this year is not expected to be greater than that harvested in 1944, production of 15 percent more seed is needed. Half again as much alsike seed as was harvested last year is needed, and the alsike clover seed goal is 17 percent more acres than in 1944.

Special assistance to farmers who harvest these three seeds is available under the Agricultural Adjustment Agency program.

WARM WEATHER WEAR

Come on, now—run, do not walk to your nearest teen department and store up on some summer superduds with that sugar-and-spice look. Going too warm for your Easter suit, or time to air your Sloppy Joe away in moth balls. Yes, it's time to get out for fun in the sun.

Two-Timers—for the sun, choose new sunback dresses with matching jackets. Walking in a Main Street, you'd keep your hat on, sitting in the sun, you'd be glad to be a Bare Back.

Wide Open Spaces—You're certainly going to be an Out-Cover for this season, and those open, off fashions floating around the High School way of your favorite store.

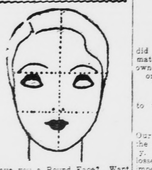
Minute Make-Ups

By GABRIELLE



Have you a Round Face? Want to factor it by make-up? Remember that the width of the face is about three-quarters of the length of the face. Keep your rouge centered under the eyes. Use only a faint shadow of color. Make your mouth as wide as possible; the tiny mouth in a Round Face isn't pretty. Accent the eyebrows with an outward, upward curve.

DEATH OF MR. TWEEDY

Valley Mills, Texas, May 26.— E. A. Tweedy, 61, community leader and prominent land owner, survived the bite of a dying rattlesnake which his grain reaper had cut in two last Wednesday only to die three days later of a heart attack, his physician said here today.

Mr. Tweedy died at 12:30 A.M., Saturday at his home here. He had been in ill health several months.

Friends said Mr. Tweedy was operating a grain reaper Wednesday in one of his fields. The blade cut a rattler in two. Mr. Tweedy got off the machine, saw the tail end of the snake, but didn't see the other end until the serpent had buried its fangs in his foot. He received treatment here and was recovering, apparently, with little ill effect, when the heart attack seized him about midnight.

Mr. Tweedy, a native and lifelong resident of Valley Mills, was chairman of the local school board, member of the Bosque County O-PA ration board, member of First Baptist Church and an ex-student of Baylor University.

(Note: Mr. Tweedy has a number of relatives in Appomattox).

The War Production Board has authorized the making of a total of 691,018 new automobiles in a nine-month period beginning July 1st.

AMERICAN HEROES

by WOODY COWAN

BUYING War Bonds to support such men as Sgt. Walter D. Ehlers is little enough. Acting as spearhead against an enemy strongpoint, he killed four in a Nazi patrol, put a gun crew out of action and put to flight a mortar section. Again he advanced on a machine gun and knocked out its crew single-handed. All that he did while machine gun bullets and mortar fire poured upon him and his men.

Fewer Forest Fires in State This Season

Helped along by an active advertising campaign, spring forest fire losses were greatly reduced in Virginia this year. From January 1 to May 10 of this year, the 2,000 forest wardens of Virginia reported 1,128 forest fires which burned over approximately 27,800 acres of forest and brush land. When compared with 1,451 fires, the average number for the corresponding period during the preceding five years, this year showed a reduction of 24 per cent or 353 fires, and when compared with the five-year average of 77,800 acres, the season's record showed a reduction of area burned of 64 per cent, or 50,000 acres.

W. M. S. OBSERVANCE

The W. M. S. of Liberty Baptist Church celebrated the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Southern Baptist W. M. U., at their church Sunday, June 10, at 3 P. M. The Liberty Group of the Appomattox Association joined in the program. The devotion was led by Miss Mary Louise Gills, the subject being "Love in Stewardship." Mrs. H. Frederick Jones, the group leader, had charge of the meeting. A number of women from the various churches in the group represented the various decades as they gave their parts. Miss Laura McFadden lit a candle for each time period. One huge candle represented the hundred years of W. M. U. activity. The candles were placed on a large birthday cake. Mrs. Parks Jennings is the new group leader for the ensuing year. Mrs. H. Frederick Jones, who has so faithfully performed her duties is the retiring group leader.

Milk Flavor

Weeds such as garlic, wild onion, pennyeress, and peppergrass should be eradicated from pastures. Cows should be turned off weed-infested pasture as long as possible before milking. The longer the interval between the removal of cows from pasture and the time of milking, the less noticeable will be the undesirable flavors in the milk. In case of garlic or wild onion infested pastures, the cows should be taken off pastures for several hours before milking to entirely avoid the flavor and odor in milk. Feed flavors in milk are most frequently caused by succulent feeds such as silage made from corn, alfalfa, sweet clover, soybeans and green alfalfa. The flavor and odor of milk is also affected when cows are fed cabbage, turnips, or rape. Feeds affect the flavor of milk only a few hours after they are eaten. For this reason milk cows, if fed highly flavored feeds, should be given them immediately after milking and not just before.

Mushroom Culture

Mushrooms have no chlorophyll and can not manufacture their own starch and sugar. They must therefore be grown on a medium rich in nitrogen which has carbohydrates in such form that the mushrooms can take them up easily. Since there is no chlorophyll present in mushrooms light is not necessary in their culture. Mushrooms, therefore, are usually grown in the darkness, not because they grow better, but because it is easier to regulate the temperature and the moisture in a dark place. The spawn consists of the mycelium or roots of the mushroom plant in an arrested stage of development. They are grown in a medium made up of horse manure from grain fed animals which has been worked over and composted until its pH is under 8.

2. We can not mail a paper overseas for a single issue beyond the date to which it is paid.

3. We can not renew any overseas subscription without a written request from the service man saying he wants it renewed, and such renewal request must be preserved in our files for postal inspection. A member of his family or a friend may pay for the renewal, but not without a written request from him to us.

Our list of overseas subscriptions with dates to which each is paid up, will be prepared June 30th, for filing July 1. The order says that papers can be mailed after July 1st until the date of expiration, but cannot be renewed after July 1st without written request from the service man.

Beef Cattle Payments Authorized

As soon as it is announced by the county AAA committee that necessary forms are available, cattle feeders in Appomattox County can apply to the county AAA office for beef cattle production payments under the government's new program to increase production of meat and get the beef on the market.

Feeders are encouraged to feed more cattle, including those they purchase and those they raise, to good and choice grades under the new program. The method of payment is similar to the dairy payment program also handled through the county AAA office, according to county AAA chairman W. T. Nash.

The beef cattle production payment amounts to 50 cents per hundred-weight on good or choice cattle weighing 800 pounds or more and selling for at least the minimum stabilization price, which is for sales in this county is $14.80.

This is the first meat production payment made directly to the livestock feeder.

The beef cattle production payment is available to all feeders, including slaughterers who also are feeders, provided their cattle meet the program requirements.

To be eligible, a feeder must certify on his application: (1) that he owned the cattle at least 30 days before their sale, (2) that the cattle weighed at least 800 pounds when sold, (3) that the cattle brought not less than the minimum price for its good grade and (4) that the cattle were sold for slaughter to an authorized slaughterer.

An authorized slaughterer is any slaughterer who operates under Federal inspection or under an OPA permit at the time he slaughters the feeder cattle on which payment has been made.

A feeder - slaughterer is eligible to receive payment provided payment had not previously been made on his cattle. He may also receive payment on cattle he raised provided they are eligible under the program. To collect the payment he must substantiate the date of purchase, the prices he paid, and the weight at the time of purchase. He must also certify the grade and weight of the carcass after slaughter to determine further the eligibility of the cattle.

Farmers may obtain details of the payments from their local AAA committeemen.

Still Short on E Bond Quota

War Bond sales in Appomattox County are approximately $10,000 short of the "E" Bond quota, and the county is "over the top" in quotas in other classes of bonds.

The "E" quota for the county is $130,000. Yesterday morning the Seventh War Loan Chairman for the county, G. R. Buchanan, announced that sales were within $13,000 of that total, and sales up until this afternoon moved up this figure, and it is now anticipated that the "E" quota will be passed before the War Bond Premiere at the Lee Theatre Monday night.

The county quota for bonds to individuals other than "E" bonds was $15,000, and sales so far total $30,500.

The county quota for corporations was $20,000. Sales credited to the county are $30,000. In this group, the Norfolk and Western Railway Company has placed $25,000 of its bond purchases to the credit of Appomattox County.

The total quota in all classes of bonds was $165,000, and total sales, according to the recapitulation above, are approximately $179,000.
